FISH AND GAME PROTECTION.

A new departure, but one th should receive the approval of all sportsmen, marks the August ssue of Rod and Gun in Car Mr. Edison Says published by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont. The greater portion of the reading pages is given up to the reproduction in full of the interim Report of the Ontario Fish and Game Commission. As a rule Governmen publications receive only scant attention and have but alimited circulation. In this instance however, the Report, through its appearance in the Magazine will be brought promi nently before the attention of sportsme not only throughout Canada but also in the States, and the many suggestions and recom mendations contained therein can searcely fail to have som effect in a much wider field than the province. The interest taken in Fish and Game protect ion is now general throughout I Yorth America and this document : will be studied and quoted for a. long time to come. The statemen tof existing conditions and the many recommendations for in nprovement will bear much con sideration from sportsmen Through their organization they should let the Government know their views on thes matters in order that legislation may be based apon at less at some of them. The interesting experience gained in "Car ac eing on Lake Superior" is concluded and the story told of Mr . Vance's Pet Fox, while the capture of a big fish is related. For trapshooters the number is fascinating as it gives interesting accounts of many big; meets and numerous smaller ones, showing the importance attached to this

Lester has. You know Lester of the Hoda bank?"
Longwood nodded. "Chap with white hair—met him at your crib."
"Lester claims his white hair was the result of a might spent in this temple," said Ayers over his shoulder, leading the way up the stepa.
The other made no reply, and together they passed through the door and stood in the outer court of the temple. Here mendicant priests squatted about the door of the inner strine, presenting skinny hunds for aims.
Once past these birds of prey they were egailfed in a pale blue cloud of the court of the third of the court of the third way the court of the third hard way the rich vestments and spartling with gems. The massive head looked down upon them with expressioniess

Bay Rum.

Bay rum is manufactured from the dried leaves on Plimento acris. Bay rum is procured by distillation, and this in a very simple manner. The leaves are picked from the trees and theu dried. In this state they are placed in the retort, which is then filled with water, and the process of distillation is carried on. The rappr is then condensed in the usual way and forms what is known as "bay oil." a yery small quantity of which is required for each puncheon of rum.

The Most Human Picture Ever Painted

A photogravure reproduction of this great painting, 22x28 inches in size—the largest photogravure ever printed.

PRICE 25c, POSTAGE PREPAID

The original of this great painting, by Luke Fildes, hangs in the Tate Gallery, in London, placed there by popular subscription of the British people. Never has brush depicted more powerfully the expressions of professional amity, maternal grief, fatherly hopelessness or childish helplessness. It is really as well as figuratively the most human of the world's great works of art.

Newspaper enterprise, backing modern mechanical progress, makes it possible to put this work of art into the hands of the public at this nominal cost.

Now Extant.

The ancient city of Chester, like York and London, preserves a very large number of links with the past. In historic buildings it has its eathedral, its walls, its unique "rows," its King Charler's Tower. It has associations, too, customs, and ceremonies of olden memory which are kept alive to this day, certainly the most interesting—of these ancient survivals are the Pageant Plays of the Town Gülids. They reflect the early days of the drains, when de-
